

CHARACTER

Lead Designer Kate
@TeslaTechExplained

BACKGROUND

Kate is a lead designer specializing in Zenith Wave Technology, focusing on theoretical advancements and miniaturization. With 850K followers on Instagram (@TeslaTechExplained), she's become a prominent science communicator. Her account features stunning visualizations of wave physics and behind-the-scenes looks at cutting-edge technology. Recruited young for her prodigious talent in wave physics, she works for the company commercializing Tesla's lost science. Kate excels in the lab and behind a screen, constantly refining designs and exploring new applications. While brilliant, she lacks Karl's practical field experience. Always equipped with her high-end smartphone, professional lighting setup, and a portable green screen, she creates polished educational content about complex scientific concepts.
