BACKGROUND

Seasoned tomb guide working for the Ministry of Antiques, renowned for unlocking ancient doors and forgotten passageways beneath the Egyptian sands. With a keen eye for opportunity and a sly grin, he's made a small fortune offering exclusive private tours to wealthy adventurers. Though his shirt bears the Ministry's name, Aziz has a reputation for knowing more than he lets on—and for occasionally "losing track" of artifacts. His flamboyant gold Rolex and personalized uniform hint at his love for profit as much as history. Beneath the charm lies a shrewd survivor who's mastered the art of navigating both ruins and clients.
