BACKGROUND

Dr. Alaric Voss, once a tenured archaeology professor at Cambridge, was forced into early retirement for pushing controversial theories about Atlantis and the true purpose of megalithic structures. Now a globe-trotting independent researcher and eccentric YouTuber, he documents forbidden knowledge and ancient technology with obsessive fervor. His passion lies in decoding lost civilizations and exposing historical cover-ups. Alaric is often seen clutching his glowing parchment and muttering about energy grids and sacred geometry. His loyal (and slightly bewildered) followers call him The Oracle of Stone.
